

Biography for Dr Moeketsi Joseph Letele

Dr. Moeketsi Joseph Letele is a distinguished higher education leader and quality assurance expert in Africa. He currently serves as the Chief Executive Officer of the Council on Higher Education (CHE) in Lesotho, where he provides strategic leadership in promoting quality, accountability, and excellence within the country's higher education sector.

At the continental level, Dr. Letele was recently elected President of the African Quality Assurance Network (AfriQAN), reflecting his longstanding commitment to advancing quality assurance systems and collaboration across African higher education institutions.

He also serves as a member of Troika in the Interim Council of the African Union's Pan-African Quality Assurance and Accreditation Alliance (PAQAA), contributing to continental efforts aimed at strengthening accreditation frameworks, academic standards, and the harmonization of higher education quality assurance systems throughout Africa.

In addition, Dr. Letele holds the position of Executive Secretary of the Southern African Quality Assurance Network (SAQAN), where he supports regional cooperation among quality assurance agencies and promotes the continuous improvement of higher education quality across Southern Africa.